DELUGED WITH TELEGRAMS

Newspaper Bulletins and Congratulatory Messages Poured in at the White House, Beginning Early.

Washington, Nov. 9 .- Surrounded by his devoted family and a company of intimate personal friends, President Roosevelt last night received the news of his overwhelming victory achieved at the polls of the American

The first information of a definite character was received by the president while he was at dinner. The returns laid before him were then in the nature of assurances that he had carried New York his home state, by a plurality so large as to be really astounding. Bulletins from the newspapers of New York city were received the president was gratified, it may be said that the result was not entirely unexpected, although he himself had after dinner a company of intimate friends of the president and Mrs. Roosevelt assembled in the parlors of the white house and extended their felicitations and congratulations to both of them on the

Shortly after 9 o'clock President Roosevelt received a personal telegram from his democratic opponent congratulating him upon his election.

In addition to the telegram of congratulation from Judge Parker, the white house telegraph force was deluged with congratulatory messages from the friends of the president in every section of the land.

M., when he received a bulletin that the democratic national headquarters had already admitted that every doubtful state had been carried by the republican ticket, He appeared to be not at all downcast by the result, although it is known that he greatly deplored his overwhelming defeat in his own state. He received the discouraging news in his study, where he sat smoking with two of his friends.

> The bulletin from democratic headquarters concerning Judge Parker's defeat was given to the Judge by the Associated Press representative.

In the village of Esopus there was President Roosevelt is especially pleased that Frank W. Higgins had genuine grief manifested by demobeen elected governor of New York, the railroad station to listen to the refor he feels that the campaign waged turns, but many had foreseen the reagainst Mr. Higgins was unwarrantedsult as based upon the returns for the village, which Judge Parker had falled to carry by 14 votes. The bonfire prepared for the occasion was not lighted Judge Parker retired at 11:40, de clining to make any statement beyond that indicated by his telegram to President Roosevelt.
